

HOUSE RECONVENES FOR SHORT SESSION TO PASS FEW BILLS

Two Bills in Hopper of House Are On Prohibition Question

VERY BUSY MEETINGS

Bills In Lower Body Are Now Being Introduced In Large Numbers

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 2.—For the purpose of passing a dozen or so bills to second reading members of the House of Representatives will reconvene at 10 o'clock this morning for a short session and then follow in the footsteps of the Senate—adjourn until next Monday night.

By passing about twelve bills which were reported out of committees yesterday on first reading at the morning session today and a couple on second reading the House will lay the foundation for a busy session next Monday night.

In the hopper of the House today were two bills on the prohibition question introduced by Joseph G. Steedle, of Allegheny. They are the first introduced this session to have aroused much enthusiasm from members of the body and lobbyists in the Assembly halls. One would repeal the Snyder-Armstrong act of 1923 and the other provides for a referendum on the prohibition question to be put up to the people next November.

Although bills in the lower body are being introduced in large numbers, 155 going into the hopper yesterday with the figure already standing near 300, there are few important measures among them, and it is expected that scores of them will never emerge from committee rooms.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 2.—Wet and dry legislation, neither of which was expected to play a prominent part in this session of the Legislature, today was edging toward the front of the stage on which ten more weekly engagements are scheduled.

Few Senators are in the city today but the attention and hopes of the wets were turned toward the House where they expect to stage their biggest fight. In that body two bills which would loosen the clamp the Pinchot forces screwed down are the rallying hub for the "modification" forces.

The dry forces, apparently believing nothing could be drier than the Snyder-Armstrong act, have not yet presented legislation. Yesterday they conferred with Governor John S. Fisher, and later reported a "very satisfactory conference."

But meanwhile Representative Steedle, Philadelphia, introduced a bill paving the way for a referendum on the liquor problem. Another from the same source would wipe from the books the Armstrong-Snyder act. That is the measure for which the dries fought bitterly and which former Governor Gifford Pinchot looked upon as the ideal enforcement act.

Ground Hog Sees Shadow; Six Weeks More of Winter

By P. L. Smith

WEATHER WORKS, Canoe Ridge, Punxsutawney, Pa., Feb. 2 (I.N.S.).—The ground hog has seen his shadow and six additional weeks of winter are just as certain as death and taxes.

Some lesser weather minions, pretenders to the throne of original Punxsutawney ground hog, may have failed to see their shadows but the authenticated and recognized prognosticator of the species Marmot registered a full shadow at 8:35 o'clock this morning at the official weather works of Canoe Ridge.

A dozen weather scouts of the Punxsutawney Ground Hog Club were on hand to see the shadow casting and to duly record its myriad angles and intricacies for the interpretation of chief weather scout, Dr. P. A. Lorenzo.

To the uninitiated the curves, quicks and bends of a shadow mean absolutely nothing; to the pretenders from Richmond, Va., and the would-be usurpers from Connellsville, and McKees Rocks, Pa., the shadow of a ground hog is just that and nothing more.

Latitudinal, longitudinal, circumgyratory, survilinear, kinks, mean nothing to them, but to "Doc" Lorenzo, long schooled in groundhog lore, these terms are quite familiar and understandable. This morning "Doc" Lorenzo gave the shadowgraph a quick once over, reduced the longitudinality of the graph to its proper latitudinal, subtracted the circumgyratory curvilinear and multiplied the results by the length of the shadow cast by the chuck's left thigh and there he had it—six weeks more of winter, rain, snow, ice and sleet or what have you. Skeptical folks throughout the length and breadth of the land are invited to shed their "woolens" put away their golashes, send their ear muffs to storage and start on a quest for "spring flowers." The original Punxsutawney ground hog promised

"DADDY" AND "PEACHES" TO HAVE PERIOD OF REST

Attorneys Now Busy Preparing Briefs to Be Submitted To Justice Seeger

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (I.N.S.).—"Daddy" and "Peaches" today retired to their respective apartments to rest and recover, if possible, from the charges and counter charges which they hurled at each other during their trial for separation in White Plains.

The honking geese and the rubber eggs have had their day in court and now the attorneys for Edward West Browning and his young wife, the former Frances Heenan, are engaged in preparing briefs which they will submit to Justice Seeger within two weeks. The judge will then study these documents, the testimony given during the trial, which was the most popular entertainment staged in Westchester county in years, and eventually, in perhaps a month, he will render his decision.

Not until then will "Daddy" know how large a slice of his millions will go to the youthful "Peaches" if any; nor will she know whether she and "Ma" Heenan can continue to live in comfort, or whether they must go back to their former roles of shop girl and nurse, respectively.

The only tangible result of the performance so far is considerable wear and tear suffered by the White Plains Court House at the hands of the mob which witnessed the trial, and a strong movement to have such litigation held in private in the future.

Justice Seeger himself announced that if ever again such a case comes before him, he will bar the public from the court and also the press.

"I believe that before another year is past a statute will stand on the books making secrecy in such a case mandatory," he said.

MEMBER OF A THRIVING LOCAL OIL COMPANY, AND WORLD WAR VETERAN

Mr. Lawrence is one of the members of the Refiners Oil Company, his associates being M. E. Powell and H. W. Powell.

Mr. Lawrence is a native of Ohio, having been born in Fostoria, that State. While quite young he moved with his parents to Finley, Ohio, continuing his public school education there. He is a graduate of the Finley High School.

From the time of his completion of high school studies until the entrance of the United States into the World War, he was actively engaged in the management of theatres, both motion picture and legitimate houses. At the time of the recent war, Mr. Lawrence became connected with the U. S. Navy Transportation Forces. During his time of service he was stationed at Camp Sherman, Ohio, being mustered out in June, 1919.

Again assuming an interest in theatre operation, he worked for one year at this employment. In 1920 as a special representative for the Visible Pump Company, whose products are pieces of gasoline equipment, Mr. Lawrence travelled from the Mississippi to the eastern coast; and from the Great Lakes to the southernmost points of the United States. The work was made more enjoyable because an automobile was used as the means of transportation.

It was in October, 1925, that Mr. Lawrence and his partners located in Bristol, and their place of business is located on the new highway, near Mulberry street.

This World War veteran at one time was very enthusiastic about football, and is still interested in this sport as well as baseball.

PROJECTS OF BUCKS COUNTY AGRICULTURE EXTENSION ARE REVIEWED IN YEAR'S REPORT

Farmers Have Shown Interest, As 93% of Planned Work Has Been Carried to Completion — Is Non-Political and Non-Commercial Organization

(By WILLIAM GREENAWALT)
DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 2.—The following report of the Bucks County Agriculture Extension Association covers the work of the organization from December, 1925, to November 30, 1926. The purpose of this report is to give to the people of Bucks county some of the outstanding projects carried on in the county, and to link up with these projects the policies of the association and the good to be accomplished.

Keep in mind that the extension association is an educational organization which is non-political and non-commercial.

In order to do the most good the association tries to give to the people the projects which they want. This was done by having the executive committee in each community act as community leader and call in a committee of men to talk over the situation in their community with the County Agent and plan the work for the coming year. This plan was carried out in 15 of the 19 communities with very good results. The farmers were interested in the work being done and supported it very well as evidenced by the fact that 93 per cent. of the planned work was carried to completion.

Animal Husbandry

The Spinnerstown Boar Association was organized in the spring of 1926 with 13 members. A purebred Chester White Boar was purchased by the association.

This association has been a big benefit to the swine men of that community. They have improved the type of pigs through the use of a good boar and have done away with the idea of keeping a boar for 3 or 4 sows.

Ton litter work was continued with 10 litters nominated but due to high prices of pigs most of the litters were sold at 8 weeks of age with the result that only one litter made a ton.

The Doylestown Fair Association had the horse pulling contest again this year with very good success. Eight teams took part in the pull. The contest has been a big feature for the fair and has been a good drawing card.

Dairy

Bovine tuberculosis eradication is progressing in the county. On the individual plan more herds are signed up than the appropriation of the State can test. The first township was signed up for the area test when Wrightstown signed 73 of their 75 dairymen. After the next State appropriation in June this township will be tested.

This county is badly infected with T. B. and eradication work is an uphill fight but with good community leaders and publicity the project can be put across.

The cow-testing association is continuing its good work. The members of the association are serving as leaders in their communities by setting an example of what can be accomplished by keeping records.

Vegetables

The asparagus strain test was cut for the second year with results as follows:

Totals of 3 farms—Average 23 cutting days.

MORRISVILLE C. OF C. HAS ANNUAL BANQUET

Harry Louderbough, of Jersey City, Gives Interesting Address

225 MEN ARE PRESENT

Men of Morrisville and surrounding towns, totalling 225, attended the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held in the Community House Auditorium, Morrisville, last evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Mayor Thomas B. Stockham presided, and a splendid program was presented for the enjoyment of those assembled. Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Key-stonians, a Morrisville orchestra.

Harry C. Louderbough, of Jersey City, told "The Story of the Flag," using throughout his discourse about 40 silk replicas of various flags flown in the United States during the past several decades.

It was 150 years ago that Washington crossed the Delaware at Trenton; and that length of time has also elapsed since Robert Morris was busily engaged in raising $15,000 with which to pay Washington's troops. Therefore this patriotic subject was chosen for Mr. Louderbough's address, and he paid particular attention to the two flags which were carried by Washington and his men across the Delaware on that memorable night.

Mr. Louderbough at one time resided in Bristol; and is at present Boy Scout Commissioner of Jersey City.

"The Development of Transportation Facilities at Morrisville" was the topic referred to by George B. Ogden, traffic manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and George E. Fetterman, industrial agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The committee which arranged for the speakers, and the entire program consisted of: Martin Flock, George Burgner and Frank L. Bushner, secretary of the Morrisville Chamber of Commerce. The banquet was served by a Doylestown caterer.

The annual banquets of the chamber of commerce are always well attended, and this year there was an exceptionally heavy demand for tickets. It was stated by many who were present that the affair of last night was the most successful ever given in this Bucks County town.

LAUDS BUCKS COUNTY MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE

Former Gov. Pinchot Writes President of The Organization TO GET MORE MONEY

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 2.—Mrs. William C. Ryan, president of the Bucks county trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, received a letter a few days ago from former Governor Pinchot thanking her for her personal service as a member of the board of trustees and in addition writes:

"The work done by the trustees in Bucks county represents to me the finest type of public service. I have watched with profound interest the development of the work during the last four years, and I rejoice that it was possible to increase the appropriation for mothers' assistance so substantially during my term. There is no money better spent."

"I want to express my deep appreciation of the service you have rendered, and may I ask you to convey my thanks to the other members of the board. You have helped to set a standard for public service which has never before been reached in this State, and I want you to know that I shall look back to our co-operation with the greatest pleasure."

It is well known that the proposed increase of appropriation for mothers' assistance is being looked forward to with great interest by those who are familiar with the need of a greater amount of money with which to carry on the work.

In Bucks county there are at present twenty-six mothers who receive assistance. In addition to this there are eighteen equally deserving mothers on the waiting list, because there are not sufficient funds to make them a grant.

During the conducting of experiments on Mauna Loa mountain, island of Hawaii, recently by the U. S. coast and geodetic survey, time signals were sent by radio each day from Washington, D. C., and were picked up with a portable receiving set. Most of the signals were received high up in the mountain, up to an elevation of 13,000 feet. The officials in charge, Lieut. E. J. Brown and Lieut. W. H. Bainbridge, reported that they had no difficulty in distinguishing them.

The government road leading around the island of Hawaii, passes for a considerable distance along the Hamakua coast, where, because of the precipitous nature of the cliffs, landslides are not infrequent during wet weather. Occasionally when automobiles going in opposite directions find themselves stopped by a common barrier, they make their way around the landslide on foot, arrange a temporary swapping of machines, turn the cars about and continue on their respective ways.

David K. Trask, retiring sheriff of Honolulu, who set a new record for the expeditious handling of traffic in congested portions of the city, will become sales manager of a local automobile firm upon leaving office. During his term, Trask organized the Junior Traffic Corps of schoolboys for handling traffic at school corners. So effective was the work of this organization that not one child has been killed or injured at a school crossing since they began their duties two years ago.

WOMEN ANXIOUS TO HAVE WORLD PEACE, SAYS SPEAKER HERE

Miss Laura Bronson, of International League, Addresses Gathering of Women

AN INTERESTING TALK

Warns of Growth of Imperialism In The United States

Representing the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Miss Laura Bronson, told of the aims and purposes of the organization which she represents as a field lecturer, at the February meeting of the Bristol League of Women Voters, yesterday.

A goodly number of women, members of the league, assembled at the residence of Mrs. Frank Lehman, 315 Radcliffe street, at 3 p. m., and were much enthused and well pleased with Miss Bronson's enlightening discourse.

The speaker's information has been gained at first hand, as she has travelled much in many foreign countries, and can impart much knowledge regarding conditions as she has seen them.

The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom was organized by women of many countries at The Hague, in 1915, during the World War. It is the belief of the members of the International League that war is not inevitable. At the time of that first session of The Hague, they protested against the horror and sacrifice of war. As stated at that time, these women whose hearts were burdened with the sacrifices being made in lives and strength, did not wish the people of the nations of the world to have in their minds that the soldier lads went to war chiefly to protect their womenfolk. They mentioned the fact that while some are protected, womankind of the land through which the armies pass, is often prostituted and the moral conditions of the land degraded.

"I find that the women of England and America give hearty response to community work and affairs of state, showing an interest in this work; but there does not seem to be the interest manifest on the part of the French women," remarked the speaker.

Continuing, "The International League believes that the causes of war are mostly economic and industrial in their background. These causes can readily be met in a rational and reasonable way."

In speaking of imperialism, Miss Bronson said that the United States citizens are unaware of the growth and odd forms of it in our country "such as some pieces of legislation that are put through, without much thought on the part of the major portion of our citizenship. All should keep their eyes open, and watch legislation, making each vote count."

Then turning to the theme of armaments, those gathered were told that "We all felt we entered the war to defeat militarism, but even today it is

A SURVIVING SUPERSTITION

We know that it is the ultimate of absurdity to give the groundhog credit for influencing the weather, yet that we note the recurrence of the day, indicates the tenacity of superstitious beliefs. The origin of the idea that this burrowing animal emerges on February 2 and the character of the weather for the ensuing six weeks depends on whether the sun shines or is veiled in the mists of obscurity. Regardless of the day, we know that spring never arrives in February in this latitude. The groundhog is a hibernating animal and as such has enough sense, doubtless, not to break his nap by crawling to the opening of his den when winter still holds sway. We incline to the belief that he has more intelligence than the person who stakes faith on groundhog day.

The delusion is illustrative of the difficulty in eradicating erroneous beliefs. They survive in memory for long after they may cease to be relied on generally. We declare we are not superstitious but we find it hard not to note the fact, if we run counter to signs and auguries. There is no such thing as luck yet it is quite difficult at times to differentiate what may be called luck from circumstance, fortuitous or otherwise. If there were not a lingering remnant of superstition in our makeup we would never hear that the number 13 is unlucky, nor would we "knock on wood." It is a long road from the signs and wonders which influenced the lives of our savage ancestors, more or less remote, to the state which casts off entirely such relics of ignorance and we have not covered the entire distance so long as we stop to note groundhog day.

TIMBER RESOURCES

This country, with the largest per capita lumber consumption of all industrial nations, consumes annually more timber than it grows, the deficit being drawn from virgin timber, the supply of which is reduced annually by 2 1/2 per cent.

Thus the problem of conservation narrows down to inaugurating a "sustained yield practice" or reforestation by private owners on a scale equal to the deforestation. There seems to be a growing realization of this fact among timber operators. Since 1922, for instance, about 70 per cent of the lumber production of the entire redwood region in California has been under such practice. In Oregon and Washington forestry work is going forward satisfactorily. Pennsylvania is planting millions of trees annually with public and private funds and New York state already has requests for 9,000,000 trees for planting this year.

It is supposed the government makes reforestation one of the conditions of its sale of two tracts of Alaskan timber, each embracing more than 5,000,000,000 board feet of pulpwood, for the manufacture of paper. The timber is to be sold to foster an Alaskan paper industry that will compete with Canadian and Newfoundland mills to the advantage of American consumers, so there is no opposition to the cutting of the timber. In fact, utilization of forests and conversion of this natural resource into commercial products and buildings are unavoidable. But reforestation must keep pace with this necessary deforestation or the time will come when there will be no more trees to cut.

Faint heart or complexion? I won a husband.

Blind man's buff

Remember the game? A handkerchief over your eyes . . . your hands searching for someone, feeling blindly over features your eyes could so easily know. It seems foolish—deliberately to blindfold yourself and go searching. You wouldn't blindfold yourself deliberately when you start out in search of purchases that help make life a game.

If you read advertisements first, you are spared the doubts and mistakes. Advertisements take the handkerchief off your eyes. They equip you with keen vision. They lead you direct to the cleansing cream that will give most freshness to your skin, to the cream wafers most tempting to serve, to the sparkling drinks most pleasing. They put in your hands familiar good things guaranteed to please.

You can't afford to buy under a blind man's buff. Read the advertisements to avoid the blindness — and the buff. Don't overlook these today.

Advertisements help you find the best there is to find and know it when you find it

ENTHUSIASM GROWS IN BOWLING HERE

Lack of Alleys is Great Handicap for Those Enjoying Bowling

JOURNEY TO TRENTON

The Bristol Bowling League continues to hold the limelight of the winter sports. This is indicated by the spirit and the continual growth of participants, which has jumped from the original forty on the teams in the first week of bowling to sixty-four at the present time. The interesting point on this matter is that there are a number of bowling fans in this town of such caliber that they willingly brave all kinds of weather and transportation inconveniences to get to Trenton in order to participate in their most desired pastime. If alleys were available in Bristol at this time it is easily predicted that at least four sets would be hardly capable of handling satisfactorily the present enthusiasm of bowling.

It is estimated that at the conclusion of the league schedule there will be at least eighty men who will have contested in the matches during the season.

In addition to the number participating in the Bristol Bowling League there are approximately forty men who are actively representing the R. & H. League who have scheduled matches every Friday evening.

The number of bowlers who would be willing to participate is greatly handicapped due to the fact that even though they were to go to Trenton they would not be able to find alleys available to use, and it is impossible to even engage alleys ahead for any evening owing to same being engaged for the entire season. Morrisville has four alleys and it is even impossible to go there and find available alleys after six p. m. any evening.

Cast Well Chosen For High School Play Here

"Miss Somebody Else," a play, is to be given by the Girl Reserves of Bristol High School for the purpose of purchasing a new stage curtain. The play will be given on Thursday evening, February 17th, at 8.30 o'clock.

The cast of "Miss Somebody Else" is very well chosen. The actors are: Winifred Tracy as Constance Darcy, the brilliant daughter of Harvey Darcy, a multi-millionaire mine owner and proprietor of the Darcy Mills.

Henrietta Davis as Celeste, a vivacious French maid in the employ of Constance.

Marian Harrison as Ann Delavan, a financially embarrassed woman, manager of the Tuxedobrook Club House. Florence Peirce as Mildred Delavan, eighteen-year-old daughter of Ann and Jasper Delavan. She is sentimental and vain.

Corra Bazel as Mrs. Blainwood, a society leader of Tuxedobrook.

Marion Rommel as Fay Blainwood, Mrs. Blainwood's debutante daughter. Ada Horne as Alice Stanley, a graceful society girl.

Dorothy Hardy as Freda Mason, a typical society girl in appearance.

Margaret Hendricks as Mrs. Herick, a beautiful young society matron. Gertrude Seales as Susan Jane Slater, Mrs. Delavan's maid-servant. She is of melancholy disposition and uncertain age. She carries herself stiffly.

Leslie Strumfels as Cruger Blainwood, Mrs. Blainwood's only son, a fine type of young American manhood. James Paulmier as Ralph Hastings, a young crook. He is very well groomed.

Lester Slatoff as John, chauffeur to Constance.

Albert Bisbee as Jasper Delavan, an elderly scientist. He has a benevolent lovable countenance. Robert Lehman as Sylvester Crane, a diffident chap of a good family. He is about twenty-three years of age.

John Hardy as Bert Shaffer, an enthusiastic, but awkward member of the younger society set of Tuxedobrook.

Hulmeville

At the home of Mrs. Ashbel Buckman, Bellevue avenue, on Monday evening, the officers of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Hulmeville Public School assembled. Mrs. Ralph Fox, of Morrisville, spoke to the officers, telling of the principles of the organization; and explained the work of the various committees. The time for the holding of the next meeting of the association will be announced later.

Mr. Alfred Comly, and Mrs. Earl Phipps and daughter Jean were recent visitors in Lansdale.

Mrs. John Egly is able to be about, after being confined to her home because of illness for a couple of weeks. Mr. and Mrs. William Blessing are the owners of an Essex coach, purchased from Lewis Bruner, the local Flint dealer.

Mrs. Joseph Afferbach visited her mother, Mrs. Fred Gehring, on Oaklane, on Friday.

Mr. Benjamin Barton and children, Lillian and Lewis, are moving to Crofton. Mr. Barton has rented his home on Main street to Mr. and Mrs. George Tracy.

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. J. C. Everitt, Mrs. Horace Cox, Mrs. William Harrison, Mrs. Edward Davis, Mrs. Samuel Black, Mrs. Helen Bluck, Mrs. Emma Vanzant, and Mrs. Eli Peck attended the service held in connection with the 16th anniversary of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies in the Langhorne Methodist Church. A returned missionary from India spoke, and the meeting was much enjoyed.

OLYMPIC REQUIRES SUPPLY OF ATHLETES

By Davis J. Walsh (I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK.—"New lamps for old," leered the villain who wished to short change Aladdin out of his non-refillable magic lantern. And Aladdin's faithful retainer naturally thought the man was off his chump and hastened to close the deal before the sap became conscious. He figured he couldn't get the benefit of a miracle seven days a week.

The American Olympic Committee supplies new lamps for old every four years and no one regards it as being at all miraculous. It is taken as a matter of course. American supremacy in track and field could not long endure otherwise.

Yet a pre-view of the Olympic situation merely serves to indicate how surprisingly few members of the team that won in Paris may be expected to figure prominently at the Amsterdam games next year. The competitive "hangovers" of the four year interval may number as few as a short half dozen.

The Big Six

Bud Houser, double winner in the weights at Paris, figures to be one of them. Lee Barnes and Glenn Graham, "one-two" in the pole vault at Paris, may also come back, being young and full of verve. Lloyd Hahn, place winner at 1,500 metres, is an exception in that he is expected to be a stronger contender than ever. Morgan Taylor, 400 metre hurdle champion, also seems to be none the worse for wear. The other possibilities are Harold Osborn and De Hart Hubbard, winners of the high and broad jumps respectively. I don't believe either is as good now as he was in 1924.

Charley Paddock, winner of the 100 metres in 1920 and second at the double distance in 1924, was fast enough last year to get credit for a new century record of 9.5-10 seconds. But the general idea on Charley now is that another year will do him virtually no good with sprinters like Locke, Borah, Russell and Sharkey coming while he is going.

The same idea applies to Scholz, Bowman and Murchison, 1924 sprinters, and to the record breaking relay teams of Leconey, Murchison, Clarke and Hussey at 400 metres and McDonald, Stevenson, Cochran and Helfrich at 1,600 metres. Hussey is quite young but he seems to have lost the speed he knew in the last Olympic year and the season immediately following it.

No one expects Coard Taylor, Fitch, Robertson or any other 1924 quarter miler to get anywhere in particular; now and Enck, place winner at 800 metres last time, seems to be definitely out of competition. Richardson and Waters were active last year but don't appear to be exactly hot bets for 1928. As for the milers, Watson and Buker, they seem to have been decently buried.

Always A Supply

Joie Ray also was on the distance team. He is passe now. So is Roming, who placed in the 5,000 metre event. Tootell, the hammer throw champion, has turned pro. So has Tom Lieb, discus point getter. Comins and Gourdin, broad jumpers, seem to be pretty well retired from circulation and that appears to go, too, for Har-trant in the weight events; Brown in the high jump; Brookins, Anderson and Riley in the hurdles, and Legendre in the all around event and broad jump.

Little has been heard, either, of Kinsey, high hurdle champion, but it would appear that Guthrie, and several others will be back. I suppose, too, that statement covers the case of De Mar, who finished third in the marathon at Paris. He is forty years old or more but a marathoner seemingly is incurable.

The four-year task of the Olympic Committee would be that much simpler if all of its athletes were marathoners. It is easy enough, at that; for it deals only in American manhood and the supply is always at the flood.

not killed as long as we keep up our armaments. This field lecturer of the Peace League then cited how peace is kept between Great Britain and the United States. It was her contention that it is not merely because of a peace treaty that friendly terms are manifest; but chiefly because of the absence of battleships on the lakes, and forts and other armaments along the 3990-mile boundary.

Likewise the disillusionment caused to many of the prominent young business men who return from the war, and have during their absence lost a splendid clientele, was mentioned by the speaker; while injuries are caused to others through wounds.

Advocating a friendly feeling to all nations, Miss Bronson added "We should not let bitterness against our late enemies be multiplied. Let us all help to cultivate a spirit of friendliness."

Previous to Miss Bronson's talk, Mrs. Frank Lehman gave an excellent resume of a lecture given at the Friday Morning Club by David Lawrence, editor of the United States Daily, a newspaper published in Washington, which is devoted to giving "the fact side of the government."

Mrs. Serrill Douglass, chairman, presided over the meeting, and called upon Mrs. Emil Metzger for a reading, which dealt with affairs of interest to the Voters' League. Letters containing reports from the State Legislature were also read by the secretary, Mrs. Richard Myers.

At the close of the session, refreshments were served by the social committee.

PROJECTS OF BUCKS CO. AGRICULTURE EXTENSION ASS'N ARE REVIEWED

1. Riverview Farms, Bridgeton, N. J. 1576 146.5 lbs.
2. Home Nursery, Richmond, Washington (roots grown by E. H. Lovett) 1733 179.25 lbs.
3. Pedigree Seed Co., Hartsville, S. C. (roots grown in Penn's Manor region) 1858 190.75 lbs.
4. Gilbert Watts, Bellville (roots grown from Mass. seed). 1322 133.50 lbs.
5. Pedigree Seed Co., Hartsville, S. C. 1882 192 lbs.

These results uphold the opinion of the specialists as to the best source of roots. The demonstration will be cut next year in order to further prove the results.

Asparagus cover crop demonstration was started in order to find the best crop to use for this purpose.

The demonstration gardens were carried on this year with fine success. Farmers are beginning to realize the value of the home garden and take advantage of the information available on this subject.

Forestry

Forestry work is one which is very slow to show any results and a farmer has to look ahead in order to take up this work. However, there are 9 planting demonstrations and 3 thinning demonstrations located along public roads in the county, which in a few years will begin to show some very fine results. Our farmers are taking advantage of the trees sent out by the State Department and planting their unutilized land and in so doing are insuring the future wood supply of Pennsylvania.

Poultry

The poultry work is confined mostly to adult clubs of which we have two in the county. The members of these clubs keep accurate records and each month have a meeting with the poultry specialist. At the end of two years these men are capable of taking care of the reports themselves and serve as demonstrators to the other poultrymen in their communities.

Disease and Insects

The spray service was continued this year with eight letters being sent to 193 fruit growers. A check of these sprays showed the following results:

| | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 |
|-------------------------|------------|-----|------|-----|-----|
| Stay Stay Col Stay Stay | man | man | lins | man | man |
| Total apples | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 |
| Clean | 29 | 51 | 24 | 11 | 15 |
| Red spider | (not com.) | 67 | 43 | 38 | 61 |
| Curculio | 1 | 0 | 15 | 16 | 20 |
| Fruit worm | 0 | 0 | 1 | 3 | 6 |
| Codling moth | 0 | 2 | 6 | 5 | 19 |
| Leaf roller | 0 | 2 | 11 | 2 | 7 |
| Scab | 2 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 13 |
| Red bug | 1 | 0 | 4 | 2 | 3 |
| Scale | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 16 |
| Aphids | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 1 |

Remarks: No. 1.—Commercial orchard, 96 per cent. clean over spider. Used all spray recommendations.

No. 2.—Commercial orchard, 94 per cent. clean over spider. Used all spray recommendations.

No. 3.—Farm orchard, 62 per cent. clean. Missed one spray which was recommended and not quite as timely with other sprays as commercial men.

No. 4.—Commercial orchard, 72 per cent. clean over spider.

No. 5.—(Check) Commercial orchard, 15 per cent. clean. Three sprays applied at random.

These results show several things: (1) No definite time to spray can be set ahead of time; (2) spraying must be done as conditions arise; (3) spraying must be thorough; (4) the growers themselves can't watch the development of diseases and insects and tell just when to spray but need the help of men trained in this work.

The extension association is offering this service to the growers and those who follow the recommendations are getting results which show the project is worth while.

Boys' and Girls' Club Work

Club work is conducted for the purpose of giving the boys and girls training in the different branches of agriculture and to show to the community what can be done by using improved methods.

This year there was a calf club in Edgewood community of 16 members; a Berkshire Breeding Club in Buckingham community of 12 members; and two pig feeding clubs of 20 members each sponsored by Rotary clubs, making a total of 68 club members.

One of the biggest features of club work sponsored by service clubs is the contact of farmer and business men. Farmers need the business men and the business men need the farmers and should become better acquainted. By getting the business man on the farm to see the boys he gets acquainted with agricultural conditions and can be of more service to the farmers. Club work is the best project carried on by the Extension Association and should be encouraged in every way possible.

Tours

The general auto tour was discontinued but tours or field days in the different branches of work were conducted with very good success. The tours were: Poultry, to Sussex county, N. J., 125 present; vegetable, New Jersey, 80 present; dairy, to Chester county, Pa., 360 present.

Field days were: Fruit growers, Farm School, 100 present; potato growers, J. Wile, Souderton, 150 present; Holstein field day, Farm School, 100 present; Guernsey Field Day,

VODKA FLOOD WORRIES REDS

Moscow Seeking Way To Cut Down Drinking and Still Keep Revenue

Moscow, January. 4.—(AP)—Vodka drinking in Russia has become so great an evil that the Commissariats of Health, Justice and the Interior are jointly drawing up severe measures to repress it. They propose to seize forcibly chronic drunkards whenever they are found intoxicated and to subject them to drastic sobering treatment in hospitals.

Agitation for prohibition of vodka continues in many quarters, but is faced with the difficulty that the Government cannot afford to forego the $300,000,000 annual vodka revenues.—(Adv.)

County Farm Products Show

In order to finish off the year's work a Farm Products Show is held in Doylestown. This show serves as a round up for the crops of the county, the best of which compete later at the State show at Harrisburg.

This show is very well supported by both farmers and business men. The result has been to standardize varieties and to create interest in better crops in Bucks county.

Conclusion

Each year the number of farmers reached by the agricultural extension association has increased. The farmers realize that the association can help them and are taking advantage of this service. Are you getting all you can out of this service?

Credit for the success of the work is given to: The County Commissioners for an appropriation to maintain the work in this county; the newspapers for publicity; the banks for premiums; the granges and farmers' clubs for their cooperation; and all the local leaders who devoted a lot of time and hard work to carry out projects in their communities.
